

LEARNING JOURNEYS

Learning journeys are connected experiences that help our learners progress through a continuum of competencies from being a beginner to being proficient over their K-12 learning years. Choosing a right set of experiences at different points in time can be crucial to building the right skill set

This child isn't afraid of walking the uncharted roads, instead finds it exciting and energizing. Loves to bring together ideas, technologies, and people to solve complex problems. The child aspires to make a difference to the community by bringing new ideas to reality and being the CEO of their startup
