

LEARNING JOURNEYS

Learning journeys are connected experiences that help our learners progress through a continuum of competencies from being a beginner to being proficient over their K-12 learning years. Choosing a right set of experiences at different points in time can be crucial to building the right skill set

To this child connecting and inspiring people for a cause is a personal mission, loves both online and offline social connections, understands technology and tools to reach large audiences. The child aspires to educate and bring about social and cultural change in society and be among the most incredible change-makers of the generation.
